OUTLOOK FOR PEACE MARKET INFLUENCE

Brace in Prices Due to Effort to Induce Public to Come Back Into Market.

HOPE BUT LITTLE REALIZED

Domestic Situation Regarded as Encouraging, Considering Circumstances.

Peace was again to the fore this week as the most talked of influence in securities and financial circles, but it was in a somewhat different aspect that it was presented. Whereas before it was the question whether the entente would give a favorable or ing more or less, but on the whole unfavorable answer to the German there is relative little support to a overtures, this week it was whether market that is prone to nervous trethe imperial government would folw the truculent press of Berlin and w the truculent press of Berlin and sion houses waiting for something to carry on a desperate war to the bitter happen, it finds no end of amusement end as its reply to the enemies re-

This phase in the first half of the week caused a general stiffening in prices in the stock market, although it must be confessed that the movement lacked much significance be cause of the highly professional character of the trading. Traders were bullishly inclined in the hope, It would appear, of inducing the public to come back into the market after the rather severe punishment many had received the previous week or two. This hope was not realized to any very great extent.

Drop Is Not Surprising.

It was not surprising, therefore, that prices dropped with considerable precipitancy on Thursday and Friday when, the first outburst of Teutonic anger having begun to subside, it became increasingly apparent that official Germany, assuming it was sincere. in protestations of a desire to give peace to Eurupe, would in due time play its second card and reply to the entente in a manner that promised a continuance of the preliminaries which had gone before. From the meager reports that come out of the empire there is reason to believe that Germany not only wants peace.

The conference of the rulers of the Teutonic allies at Berlin has been called presumably to consider the next step looking to peace, rather than to any measures that may be necessary to carry on a more ener-getic war. Moreover, reports came to hand through Italy and Switzerland that Germany was actually preparing to send another note to the entente, which aroused some interest in con nection with the communication from the American ambassador at Berlin to the Washington Government following his interview with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg. Then there was the rumor from the Capital that President Wilson was about to offer ormally his services as mediator, and that the Austrian Emperor had made n appeal to the Vatican.

Makes Public More Timid.

Wall street is still sufficiently deludi with the idea that the continuance the traders to change front and to make the timid public more timid.

Further improvements in the con lition of the banks are reflected in the York Clearing House, the curtailment of stock market operations and the settlement of interest and dividend and other financial accounts at the turn of the year contributed to a continuance of ease in money. The week-ly statement of the Bank of England also was of a relatively favorable character, although there is sill con-iderable room for improvement. riderable room for improvement. There was not a little discussion of in impending loan on this side to reat Britain which may materialize within the next fortnight or so mount of this loan is still problemstical, although there is talk of some thing like $250,000,000 and its running

In London interest in Lombard direct is centered in the forthcoming internal loan, and the sale of treasury bills has been stopped in preparation for that flotation. The issue is expected to bear 5 per cent to be offered 1 95 and to run for twenty years.

Domestic Situation Encouraging Considering all the circumstances, the domestic situation may be regarded as encouraging. The Mexican affair drags on but there is reason to believe that some sort of an undertanding my be reached. Talk of rail many social and official duties of the ond strikes has subsided for the time position. being. Meanwhile, steps are being taken to introduce strike prevention legislation in Congress. Railroad earnings for November and the eleven Wedded to Joseph Clyde Carter, at months ended November 30, make a very good showing in reality, with substantial increases in gross. France are getting ready to send ad-ditional consignments totalling not less than $50,000,000 in the near fu-ture. / Gold shipments to South America continued despite the British prohibitions and the refusal of vessels under that flag to carry it. More than $6,000,000 of the precious metal was shipped to Argentina on an American vessel sailing from Philadelphia. Little Initiative Expected.

Wall Street does not look forward to any great initiative in the stock market until it is clear to some extent at least which way the peace talk is going to lead. It will no doubt require something more than bullish sentiment on the part of the traders on the floor of the stock Ex change to induce a nervous public to buy. There is plenty of money with which to buy, and a good deal of it is going into the municipal and highgrade railroad bonds. Business in the bond department is very materially curtailed, however, by the limited supply. It is felt, and quite justly so, that the present stock market is no place for the small investor or small speculator. A few large interests are buymors on every idle report. While the public is hanging about the commisand interest in the revelations and near-revelations involved in the unsavory 'leak' scandal at Washington. This can scarcely be construed as a marketwise influence, although it may throw light on the devious ways of some operators.
